Reappraisal Hearings Start

NEAR EAST AND EUROPE USE WILMINGTON'S LABORATORY ANIMALS FOR RESEARCH

The Charles River Breeding Laboratories, Inc. of No. Wilmington has once again been called upon by research workers from far flung research centers throughout the world for its scientifically bred albino rats. In 1954 laboratory albino rats were shipped to Milan, Italy where a nucleus for a new breeding colony was needed. On July 13, 1956, hypophysectomized rats were shipped to the Cancer Research Laboratories in Jerusalem headed by Dr. E. Margoliash. The particular animals sent were born and raised on Ballardvale St., No. Wilmington in the Charles River Breeding Laboratories' modern air-conditioned facilities. These animals were then sent to the company's Brookline laboratories where a tedious and delicate surgical operation, removal of the pituitary gland, was accomplished by trained technicians. At 8:00 a.m. July 13, American Airlines transported these animals to Idlewild where El Al Israel Airlines acted as the international carrier. The animals arrived safely shortly after midnight our time on July 14. It is gratifying to think that here in Wilmington thrives such a vital and important industry that research workers some 8,000 miles away seek its pure strains of laboratory animals for cancer research studies.

New Parking Laws In Center Will Be Enforced

New state approved parking signs have recently been erected along Main St. Going north from Church St., to Middlesex Ave., one hour parking will be allowed between 6:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. Going south, from Middlesex Ave., to Church St., two hour parking will be allowed between 6:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. The police dept. warns that previous signs were erected by the town and were little difficult to enforce, but the new signs, being state approved will be enforced to the very limit. If you park overtime and fail to find a tag on your vehicle, don't be too sure that you were not spotted, you just may receive a little reminder in the mail.

Revaluation To Be Subject Of Taxpayers' Meeting

The Wilmington Taxpayers Association will hold its next regular meeting on Wednesday, July 18 at 8:00 p.m. at Legion Hall. The main topic open for discussion will be "Revaluation in Wilmington." The Association invites all taxpayers in Wilmington to this meeting.

J. E. Poloian Wins Special Sales Contest

Cross, Vice President and Director of Agencies. Each year the Company makes a month-long drive in honor of its President. CRUTCHES, CANES, BOOKS CAN BE LEFT AT FIRE STATION GEORGE SAYS

GEORGE SPANOS TALKS TO TED WILLIAMS THIS MORNING

The "Jimmy Fund Drive" will get under way soon in Wilmington with dances, tag days and a softball game now being planned. Red Sox star Ted Williams, National Chairman, has selected George Spanos Wilmington's Honorary "Mayor" and Frank King of Silver Lake to be co-chairmen of this years drive to work in conjunction with the Chief of Police, Paul Lynch. Two record hops will be held, one for children between the ages of 6 and 13 to be held Friday, July 27 at the High School Cafeteria from 7:00 to 9:30 P.M., donation 25 cents. The second dance will be held at the Wildwood School Saturday, July 28 from 8:00 to 11:00 P.M. and will be for teen agers. The donation will be 35 cents. A social and dance for the adults at the Villanova Hall on Saturday, August 11 at 8:00 P.M. is being planned and some fine entertainment will appear. An orchestra will provide the music for dancing. The donation to this affair will be .75 cents. Chief Lynch has offered to provide officers at the above dances, as well as the usual supervision for the tag-days, at no expense to the fund. Tag day dates will be announced shortly, as will the information about the softball game. The entire proceeds from the activities planned will be turned over to the Treasurer of the Jimmy Fund to be used in the research and expansion program at the Childrens Medical Center, Boston. Any organization or individuals who want to help this cause may do so by contacting George Spanos at OL 8-8373 or Frank King at OL 8-2960. District Managers and Captains will cover the town. Three boys and a captain will cover center sections of the town. That is, all over town Captains and helpers will call at every home.

DAN BOYLEN WILL GIVE SWIMMING LESSONS

Interested parents and boys and girls desiring beginners swimming lessons should contact head lifeguard Dan Boylen at the Silver Lake Beach. It is planned to conduct this program on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays in the afternoon between one-thirty and two o'clock. No child is too young to learn providing he is capable of walking and possesses reasonable motor coordination. Boys interested in enrolling in life-saving classes should also contact Mr. Boylen as these classes are to be organized within a week. Older persons wishing swimming instruction may receive the same by making special arrangements with Dan Boylen. Miss Patricia Bennett will also be available to assist in these classes. We are again reminded that the people of Wilmington are proud of their beach and seek the cooperation of all residents in keeping it clean and safe from dangerous obstacles such as glass or left over metal containers. All persons are requested to use the barrels for refuse and debris left as the result of picnics. No bottles or other glass containers are permitted on the beach at any time. Persons without tags should contact Mrs. Gilligan at the town hall, if they wish to have use of these facilities. The officer at the gate is required to reject all persons who fail to show proper identification.

At Town Hall in Wilmington, on Monday, hearings started on the reassessment of all property in town. This reappraisal was voted on and passed at the last town meeting with a minimum of objection from the town-folk. After a series of aerial photos and crews of men sent to each home to measure and inspect the vital statistics of each piece of property, the present valuations were then arrived at. In each statement mailed to the property owner, there was a specified time set for a hearing for those who objected to the figure specified. At first there were varied objections to the time designated for appointments with the tax assessor, Mr. Calabrese, but it is now established, that property owners who cannot make it without sustaining a loss of working hours, may, upon calling the assessors office, make an evening appointment.

With many people, the sudden increases in their valuations came as a rude shock, but, as with these many people, sound reasoning along with explanations from Mr. Calabrese came to the front, and the general opinion is that it is a fair and honest valuation. There are many people who have held a low assessment value for some years and based on a true value as measured by present day conditions their valuations took a steep climb. Mr. Calabrese at 4 p.m. on Tuesday maintained that the majority of people that objected to his figures, were satisfied and agreed that, with the method now in use, they had a fair revaluation. Mr. Calabrese further stated that in his opinion, the people, on the whole, are not unhappy over their new valuation.

In a personal survey with some 23 land owners, this writer received the following opinions. Mrs. Wavie Drew, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen: "My tax assessment went up $550, but, I think this is a fair revaluation."

Mr. Frank Haggerty, Selectman, "My valuation decreased, and I am very well satisfied with the new revaluation and think it is fair. I urge the people to visit the tax assessor and learn how equal the system of reappraisal is for all property owners."

Lizzie Highshoes Sez—

There's one thing for sure that money can't buy. Poverty.

Feller down our way had an awful lot of bad luck for awhile. Didn't get hurt and couldn't sue a soul! But we're glad to report things are looking up.

Little boy we know from a large family was coming down the Pike a bit back and passed a big new motel. "Wow," he says, "How many kids have THEY got?"

We took our first trip to the Harold Parker State Forest over in North Andover last week. And for those of you who haven't, we recommend it as a very nice, very handy place for an outing. Beach, fireplaces, play areas, camping grounds, plenty of woods and hills and dales for the youngsters to roam, in fact, all the comforts of home. Which brings us to some thought-provoking observations.

When we were young, a picnic meant getting out the old army blanket, an old tablecloth, (if the ironing was caught up), a wicker basket and our big deal, a real thermos jug! And we didn't know anyone who took more. We had the times of our lives, eating out with the ants.

Well, this Sunday, we just took our Sunday dinner and modest equipment for eating. Plates and cutlery, charcoal brazier, charcoal, insulated bag for keeping things hot, insulated bag for keeping things cold, army blanket, jug of cold drinks, assorted goodies but horrors! We forgot the tablecloth. Of course we had other gear to transport; folding baby carriage, swim suits, towels, extra clothes, beach balls and other necessary paraphernalia for a dip in the lake. One thing we didn't bring enough of was food. We didn't realize the wait for the charcoal to char, added to the usual appetite-inducing effects of the great outdoors, would make us so ravenous. Even ate the emergency rations from the glove compartment. (Two pounds of gum drops.)

Well, siree bob, it was about all we could do to struggle over to the fireplace which we were assigned to (and which we promptly traded with another party who liked our spot better and vice versa) with this load in one trip, and then we looked like po' white trash. You should have seen the set up across from us! It appeared to be a mother, her two daughters and their families. The spot they had was about as large as a small house, and it was pretty well set up like one. One of the gentlemen took a pre dinner nap on an army cot in the rear bedroom while his son napped on an air mattress. In the nursery one of the young mothers efficiently took care of a new baby in a folding carriage. One father played ball with the youngsters on the front lawn, while the other young mother rested in a folding chair in the living area after setting the table with snowy linen in the dining area. In the well equipped kitchen, the grandmother, assisted at times by the others, has assorted tempting tidbits merrily boiling on two large wheeled shiny charcoal grills; the liquid refreshments were cozily cooling in the cola coolers; the steaks sizzled saucily.

We were brought up to believe you married, rented a little place and furnished it, had your allotted number of offsprings, and devoted the next twenty-three years to rearing them. If perhaps you were lucky enough to have an automobile, your cup runneth over. And by saving every last inch of string, and not leaving a single light bulb burning an extra minute, you might hope to save up the down payment on a small cottage by the time you were forty.

In these speeded up times, you get married, and soon after move into a new ranch, completely equipped for any emergency. The girl budgets to buy every push-button gadget on the market. The boys scripps a bit to trade in the hot-rod on the largest ranch wagon on the market. In a very short time, the house is complete inside. Then to the back yard. When this has been transformed into an outdoor living room, lacking only a roof, (and sometimes with one), then what? Then we take to the woods! When we have too much equipment to fill even the large economy size station wagon, then we get a utility trailer. Of course the next logical step is to get a tent to utilize fully all these possessions. But this also opens the path to a whole new set of gear for outdoor living.

And what does all this prove? We're not sure. Something about the whole set-up seems to be a little ridiculous though. Don't you agree?

(By the way, did we happen to mention our latest acquisition? Yup, we just bought a tent. Annd—away we go!)

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Andrews of the Homestead Gardens of Woburn St. on the completion of 18 years of connubial bliss on July 8.

Point of information. How does a one-man board take a vote?

Small flying demons such as bees, wasps and mosquitoes can pack a tremendous wallop. Insect bites and stings, besides causing swelling and pain, can become infected through scratching, warns the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company. Always remove the "sting" if it is still present. A paste prepared by mixing baking soda and cold cream or a compress dampened with water of ammonia provides relief. Cold applications will also ease the pain. For the itching of mosquito and chigger bites, calamine lotion is beneficial.

IS HAL'S FACE RED!!

Folks,
After Cousin Gussie (East Billerica) got those hot-top fellers to put down that nice, big asphalt parking area for all you DRIVE-IN patrons, old Hal got a wee-bit over excited and cooked up a "come-and-go" door setup so that folks wouldn't have to play "bumps-a-daisy" anymore than they really cared to. And it really went over big especially with the folks who like to return their empty coke bottles, etc., in large quantities, once a month, or so.

But there were some other folks, who never have occasion to return empty bottles (or, at least, who do so one or two at a time). And they told the DRIVE-IN fellers that they'd rather use the EXIT as an ENTRANCE, also, because they could get in and out in less time that way. And one gal, in particular, whose opinion goes a long way with those DRIVE-IN fellers, told them that she didn't like the "come-and-go" arrangement at all. And she said it so nicely, folks, being ever-so-careful not to hurt anyone's feelings, that we all decided then and there that Hal would either change things back, to some extent, or else we'd have to look around for a replacement for him! (Surely he can be replaced - he's only the manager!)

Anyway, we all got together and he agreed that we should do everything we could to please MOST of our patrons, MOST of the time. So now Cousin Gussie has a new project - fixing up the EXIT so that it is an ENTRANCE, also. And, we don't think she'll goof it up too much, either, because she has just returned from a swell, restful, vacation down there in East Slippy Rock, Ark., where she spent three weeks of absolute peace and quiet with her half-sister Lizzie and the 19 youngsters. (More on that later.)

But, as for Hal, that there "ain't no sunburn" on his face, folks - it's just plain old red blood, because he knows that he goofed and that we all caught him red-handed!!

As always,
Mabel

P. S.
To all you new folks or summer folks, who haven't been down to see those DRIVE-IN fellers yet - better get down quick-like-a-bunny! And you'll be plenty and pleasantly surprised. Shopping there is more fun than a barrel of monkeys. It's the most talked about package store (and the ONLY ONE of it's KIND) in ALL NEW ENGLAND.

D. A. V. HIGHLIGHTS

by P. T. Metcalf

More about the Fishing Trip

At the last meeting Steve Wendell brought in a report on the fishing trip of July 1. When asked who caught the smallest fish, Steve had this tale to tell. It seems that Steve was in line for the prize for the smallest fish, even to the point of counting the money, when Bob decided to quit fishing. Steve knew that anything could happen at the last moment so he kept his eye on Bob's line and he was happy because there seemed to be no tension on the line. In came the weight and then the hook began to show on the surface of the water (Steve was mentally pocketing the money) and on the hook was a fish nearly as small as a sardine. Needless to say, Steve lost. Bob won on two counts, having already won the prize for the largest fish, he now had the smallest. Three to four hundred pounds of fish, the largest a nine pound haddock and the smallest a sardine, pretty good haul for the D.A.V., how about that Captain?

Forget - Me - Not Drive

We would like to thank everyone who donated to the Forget-Me Not drive last Friday, and Saturday. Also, our thanks to Mary Starr for her help. Hats off to Jim Shine, Bill Smith, and Jim Simpson. The drive was a complete success.

State Department Convention Reports on the convention are that all went well, although not exactly as we had planned, but then, they never do. Commander Shine (not Schine) led the delegation and carried out the wishes of the Chapter. Attending with him were: Jim Simpson, John Davis and Jim Duggan.

The ladies of the Auxiliary held their convention in conjunction with that of the men. Attending from our Auxiliary were: Commander Mary Starr, Elizabeth Tattersall, and Charlotte Duggan. Mrs. Tattersall was elected and installed as an officer in the State Department of the Auxiliary.

Elected as commander of the Department of Massachusetts was Jerome Troy, and as commander of the State Dept. Auxiliary was Mrs. Mae Baldwin.

Soft Ball Team

Manager Buster Davidson, through his scribe Paul Brennan, reports that his team is doing fine and just itching to cop first place. Well, with the great Stump in there at S.S. (some say he is the greatest) the other teams do not stand a chance. Of course we have eight other good men too. Sure wish we could sign-up Mel Parnell.

Paul says that it was tough losing to the Boosters with a score of five to one. However, they are now back in the win column with a victory over the American Legion, by a score of eleven to six.

Keep up the good work boys and we will see the Pennant flying over the clubhouse at 60 Grove Ave.

National Service Officer

National Service Officer James Sayre will not be at our hall on the second Monday in August. At that time Jim will be attending the National Convention. Any veteran with a problem and wishing help should contact our Chapter Service Officer Bill Smith, or Commander Jim Shine.

LOCAL BOYS PLAY
BILLERICA BOYS

The boys in the twelve to fifteen year age group taking part in the pony league baseball on the common are now being rewarded with out-of-town games with other Recreation league groups.

Bob Hastings, supervisor of the boys work on the common along with Mr. Cushing took twenty of the boys to visit the Billerica playground team, on Tuesday morning, for their first game which they won by a score of nine to one. Pitching for the locals was Bill Hunnefeld and catching was Arthur Boudreau. One of the longest hits of the game was made by Floyd Barnaby when he connected for a triple in the fifth inning. Other successful batters for the game were Dromgoule, Penny and Cavanaugh. The boys are going to visit Lowell for an exhibition game with Mike Skaff's All Star team to be played on Alumni field on Thursday evening.

In the afternoon Mr. Gilligan is conducting events for boys on the Wilmington Common. Boys are invited to take part in baseball, softball, badminton and horseshoe competition. Any boy living in this area between the ages of nine to fifteen may sign up and be guided under Mr. Gilligan's supervision.

WILDWOOD PLAYGROUND
NEWS

Wildwood Playground wound up its third week with a Funny Hat Parade. Forty-five contestants competed for the four prizes. Judges Mrs. John Collins, Wilmington Recreation Committee Chairman, Maybelle Bliss, (Mrs. E. Hayward) and Mr. Kenneth H. Wilson found the decisions most difficult. The display of originality was something to behold and the competition was keen.

The boys prizes were allotted to Edward Latta and Michael Moore (Hathaway Acres). Diane Rauseo and Ellen Sicard, won the girls prizes.

A second Miniature Town meeting brought forth the following officials: Selectmen Eddie Latta, William Burns, Susan Moore, Paul Ethier, and Peter Collins. Policemen Billy Ritchie, Gene Lavoie, Douglas Crawford, Lou Cronis, Frank Ingram, Gerard Bruno and Chief Eddie Moore. Fire Chief - Joseph Carpenter, Firemen - Bill Downs, and Phillip Cronis - Water Commissioners - Charles Moegelein and Jackie Calandrillo - Sanitation Officer, Jane Latta.

This week "Doctor" Helen Allen and "Nurse" Donna Lavoie, were appointed to assist in any emergency that might arise. Mrs. "Dot" (Dorothy Lafionatis) supervised the young people in fashioning copper plaques, Indian bead work and colored paper fans. From her Wednesday visit developed two competent Junior Craft Assistants Beverly McGuinness and Joan McCabe. They assisted our playground people in making yarn dolls on Thursday.

"Story Castle" was busy. The Peewees dramatized "Cinderella" and "The Boy Who Cried Wolf". Junior Assistant, Virginia Babine worked with the wee ones in this birch tree corner while they colored their own drawings or picture books and formed figures with chenille-covered wire.

Our rainy day was spent indoors playing games, drawing paper puppets and changing discarded jars into colorful containers.

"Ken" Wilson of WHDH sat in with over 65 children on Friday to discuss their ideas, and appreciation of music.

Playground Director Eunice W. Wilson (Mrs. Kenneth H.) and Assistant Anne Cavanaugh will welcome suggestions from the youngsters and their parents for "fun" ideas for the coming five week program.

V. F. W. DUGOUT DOINGS

At our last regular Post meeting the boys voted unanimously to hold a lobster cookout and picnic. A committee was formed to set up the menu and the recreational program. Hank Filippone, to do the cooking. The only part of the program that is definite is the menu which will consist of the following: Steamed Lobster, Corn on the Cob, Watermelon, Coffee, Hot dogs for the kids to grill.

The price of the cookout will be $2.50 per adult, with the children under 14 years of age free. The date as yet is not determined, but it will be in the latter part of August. This has all the earmarks of a gigantic affair, and all you members should attend with your families. Non-members are cordially invited and you readers should follow this column for further details.

A message to Bill Lascelles, your Crusader is on the way and Rita is mailing your dues card. We hope to see you again soon.

Hold your hats Fellows Flip Bradley finally belted a homerun last Thursday night. To quote our HERO: "I see it coming. I close my eyes and swing, and all of a sudden I'm a HERO." All of us down here at the Dugout knew you could do it Flip.

Jim Breen is still resting from last week's convention. You shouldn't have attended all the meetings, Jim. All work and no play makes even a young man tired.

Rosie Lloyd is going up to New Hampshire next week for a while. The dugout will be quiet without you Rose, but have fun. Who knows maybe we'll run up someday just to listen to you talk.

Everyone keeps asking me, "What is Sweet and Sour?" Well, Jeannie Moore is the little Gal who can really make it. So, why don't you call her up and ask her?

Our perennial George Spanos, who is going to be chairman of the JIMMY FUND again this year has received word from Michigan that he has been named National Chairman Of Brotherhood Week. In this writers opinion, a better man could not possibly be picked, and the town of Wilmington is proud you

A little reminder for you Legionnaires, who may be reading this Thursday, July 19th, is your election night. All members are urged to attend this important meeting and vote for choice of candidates.

Sunday, the town of Wilmington was well represented at Wyman's Beach by members of the Legion and the V.F.W. with their families. Barbecues were the order of the day, and one had to wonder at the various ways to prepare food. From pepper steaks to Shish Kabab with hot dogs Hors D'oeuvre, we ate all day long. The Barbecue sauce was real hot, as Jeanne Moore and Joanne Bradley can attest. Of course, the refreshment stand was close by, so there was no shortage of liquid drinks. Higgie as usual, held her own in the eating dept. Josie let her diet go for a little while and Mrs. Mary Sotille tried a little of everything.

Hal McKelvey is out of the hospital and back home. He is still under medication, however, and can't get around too well. We're glad to see you back home Hal, get well soon. Just Wondering . . .

If Marian Cain will start saving her appetite for the Lobster cookout?

I'm sure that Rita and Josie is.

BOOSTER'S WIN FIRST HALF

The first half of the Adult Softball league came to an exciting finish this week with Booster's overcoming the Townies in a closely contested game on the Common Tuesday night by the score of 10 to 7. This game found both teams going to bat with no losses to their credit and the final winner to be the leader for the first half.

Starting next week all the teams will start off with a clean slate to make a bid for the second half winner. Manager Bob Baker was pleased with work of his players and has announced his roster to include the following players: Leo O'Connell, Joe Woods, Tex Johnson, Bucky Bachman, Joe Gilligan, Larry Cushing, Forrest Downs, Jimmie Downs, Boo Shepherd, Charlie Ritchie, Joseph Cuoco, Charlie Ellsworth, Joe Balastei, John Collins, Ted Nichols, and Charlie Dolan.

Manager Gerry Hale and his Townies were edged out with only one loss and are now out to even things by taking the second half. Of course they will find plenty of competition from Buster Davidson and his D.A.V. group along with the Oakies who are fast hitting their stride.

All games will be continued to be played on the common with a starting time of 8:30, from Monday through Friday evenings.

TEN TIMELY TIPS FOR TRAVELERS

The American Automobile Association today offered ten tips with built-in guarantees for summer motorists.

With the vacation season in full swing thousands are taking to the highways. To insure happy holidays and safe motoring AAA's Massachusetts Division makes these suggestions. Motorists who combine these tips with common sense are guaranteed a safe vacation.

1. Get your car in shape BEFORE you leave home.
2. Get an early start in the morning; stop early in the afternoon.
3. Plan your route in advance, and calculate mileage so you won't drive too far in any one day.
4. Travel with good, up-to-date maps and touring literature.

5. Explore the side roads as well as the main arteries.
6. Avoid driving when fatigued and stay within posted speed limits.
7. See the BIG PICTURE as you watch the road unfolding ahead; look far enough ahead and take in the view from both sides.
8. Allow plenty of following distance behind the car ahead; never take chances on hills and curves; overtake another car only when there's ample space ahead.

9. From time to time, direct your attention momentarily to points other than directly ahead to avoid frozen vision.

10. Relax when the road permits you to. This does not mean inattention.

FOR AN EVERLASTING SUPPLY

Tree farming and woodland conservation are key projects for 4H Club members, Future Farmers of America, Boy Scouts and other youth groups. Their members are learning it is good forestry to harvest ripe trees and help nature grow new ones. This is tree farming.

Don't Forget!

Educating today's youth for tomorrow's opportunities is the most important job in America. An important part of this appreciation for and an understanding of the forest resources that helped build this nation. Our forests, used wisely and protected from fire, will provide the wood we need for products essential to our comfort and security.

increased but, I think this is a fair and honest reappraisal. I can safely say, I am satisfied."

Bill Berry, Nichols St., "My valuation went up $400. I think this is an honest revaluation and I am satisfied."

George Mulvey, President Hathaway Acres Betterment Association, "I am quite happy with the revaluation results. Most of our members have had increases but believe them to be honest ones."

Charlie Nickerson, Woburn St., "My assessment increased $1000. I am not very happy and intend to see the tax assessor Thursday, as I think my particular assessment is unfair."

Selectman Nick DeFelice "My assessment increased $1100, but I think it is a fair appraisal. Complaints are far fewer than expected."

The following is the opinion of ten home owners who do not wish to be quoted.

One is very unhappy because of a $2000 increase in assessment and is definitely going to see the tax assessor at 10 o'clock Thursday evening. Another, who had an increase in assessment and was quite satisfied and stated the overall opinions of his neighbors were along the same lines.

Two land owners, he had a decrease in their assessment and are quite happy. Two others, who had increases and are very unhappy. One business man, who is very happy over his decrease and another business man who is very unhappy over his increase.

This is only the third day of hearings and it is expected to go on for the rest of the week. The general picture seems to be that the people realize that the real benefit of this reappraisal will come with future years and are willing to accept the responsibility of doing their part in the growth of Wilmington.

REACTIONS TO REVALUATION VARIED

Ever since it was first announced that a firm of professional appraisers had been engaged to reevaluate all the property in Wilmington, the taxpayers of the town have awaited the results with great concern. And now the time has come.

The new valuations were mailed out this past week. We've inquired of all we met how they and their neighbors felt about the new figures, but it is quite difficult to tell how the town as a whole has reacted.

A fair guess might be that it is about evenly divided between those who are satisfied and those who are disgruntled to one degree or another. Reactions have ranged from chorches of glee from those whose figure is lower than last year, to simple satisfaction, to calm resignation, to mild protest, to intense irritation, to white-hot rage. Hearings opened Tuesday morning for those who wished further information as to how the figures were set. Cases in which there is a doubt are being looking at again.

The Assessors informed us today that a definite figure on the tax rate will not be determined until any necessary adjustments are made. The total valuation is also in doubt until this time.

LIVING WITH YOUR HEART

("Living With Your Heart is a weekly public service of the Massachusetts Heart Association.")

For the next few weeks, we're going to talk about diseases of the heart and circulation. But first, a warning: if you're a Symptom Seeker, better skip it.

Doctors agree that Symptom Seekers—otherwise known as hypochondriacs—are possessed of such genius for finding any symptom of any disease somewhere in their own systems that they're better off staying away from health literature.

The range of symptoms is wide and tricky in the field of heart and circulatory diseases. It's easy for an over-impressionable person to scare himself into an excellent facsimile of a heart attack, even to the point of collapse. True, the only damage is wear and tear on the nerves, but the suffering is real.

Medical scientists long have been interested in the subject of emotional experiences on the circulation. A variety of sensations—seemingly around the heart—occur in emotional reactions. For instance, the clutching unease of fear, and the heavy feeling in the chest which comes with sadness. And thousands are unhappily familiar with that persistent, stricking pain close to the breast, born of neurosis. As yet, neither medicine nor psychiatry knows the "why" of it, but it is a powerful example of the temporary havoc the frightened mind can cause in even a healthy heart.

The most pointless activity imaginable is for a healthy person who lives sensibly to waste time worrying about his heart. Knowledge of your heart is a weapon; fear is foolishness.

Most heart victims, given the proper outlook, can be relatively free individuals. But the Symptom Seeker goes through life a slave. His existence is one of needless emotional storms, anxiety and insecurity.

Some degree of worry is inevitable for us all. But for anybody said by his doctor to be well, there are so many other real things to worry about that it seems a shame to waste one's worrypower on a myth. The psychiatrists tell us the proper objects of worry are those things about which we can hope to do something.

Symptom Seekers—with or without heart disease—are sick. But their illness is emotional. A Symptom Seeker needs faith, courage and spiritual strength as badly as an angina victim needs nitroglycerin.

For good health is more than the absence of illness. It's the capacity to live constructively.

For further information, send to the Massachusetts Heart Association, 650 Beacon Street, Boston, for the free booklet, "Don't Worry About Your Heart."

SAFETY TIP: Take inventory of your driving and see if you can measure up to the high school students who have completed a driver education course, says the AAA. These young people are learning driving skill along with the right attitude toward their fellow drivers. Is YOUR driving as good as theirs?

CHECK YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY OFTEN

"It is good business to check your social security account at least every three or four years," Miss Ethel Eliopoulos, district manager of the Lowell Social Security District Office, reminds all persons covered by the social security law. By checking your account, you can be sure that all your earnings that count toward old-age and survivors insurance were reported and credited correctly. If you find that all wages or self-employment income that can be not credited, you should then notify the local social security district office and the necessary action will be taken to correct your account.

Since all survivor and retirement benefits are based on your covered earnings, it is important that all wages and self-employment income are correctly credited through the years.

Miss Eliopoulos pointed out, however, that the earnings statements for the year 1955 are not available at this time since the posting of wages is not completed until about nine months after the wages were paid.

Miss Eliopoulos stated that the social security office, located at 10 Kearney Square, Lowell has available a postcard form for those who wish to obtain a record of past earnings credited to their social security account.

MORE HIGHWAY WORK, MAYBE

Look for a sharp upsurge of employment in Massachusetts provided the Commonwealth is enabled to take full advantage of the Federal Highway program, Public Works Commissioner John A. Volpe predicted yesterday.

Volpe's opinion was based on highway construction figures supplied by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads and on his own estimate of the program's ultimate impact on the economic future of the state.

Immediately work gets under way here on projects that eventually can entitle Massachusetts to some $1,038,000,000 in federal aid, the Commissioner said, employment will jump to a level that can be maintained at least for the 13 years of the program's duration. The volume can rise above the plateau, but never fall below it, and there is strong likelihood that once the multi-million-dollar allocation has been put to use by the state, employment will never go in any direction but up, Volpe added.

The commissioner pointed to a estimate by the Bureau of Public Roads to the effect that for every $100,000 of highway construction there are 21,444 hours of on-site employment, 25,929 hours of off-site employment and 56,367 hours of induced labor.

Volpe explained that on-site employment describes the construction work performed by executives, equipment operators, truck drivers, mechanics, masons, carpenters, cement finishers, steel workers and miscellaneous employees both skilled and unskilled. Off-site employment, he said, was the production of materials used in construction and the manufacture of highway machinery and equipment. Induced labor involves employment growing out of the wages received for on and off-site employment.

The far-reaching implications of the bureau's employment estimate can be visualized, Commissioner Volpe pointed out, on consideration of the number of $100,000 highway construction units possible in a federal allocation of $1,038,000,000.

"To realize the overall and permanent benefits accruing to the state from the Federal program, we need only to remember that we are a nation on wheels, and every wheel-turn is in prosperity's direction."

"In the past decade commercial transportation over our highways has grown at a tremendous rate. Today it forms a vital factor in our economy. The general advantages of advanced highways are so interwoven with every phase of modern life that it is difficult to realize what modern living would be without them. The average individual today is convinced that his way of life will improve in direct ratio to the improvement of highways on which he travels and over which the materials and commodities he needs are transported to him."

"Prospects for the Commonwealth were never brighter than at this time," Commissioner Volpe concluded, "but prospects will be nil unless our Legislature enacts the $200 Million Highway Bond Issue, thus enabling the Public Works Department to get going on the projects entitling the state to federal aid."

SHORT SHOTS ON SUMMER FIRST AID

The unwary or thoughtless home gardener may wind up with a case of poison ivy that can make the "seven-year-itch" seem a blessing, safety experts for the Institute for Safer Living warn. Skin protection without the use of cumbersome clothing or gloves can be achieved, they say, by using one of the special barrier ointments. Air-tight tubes will prevent and deterioration of ointments for many gardening seasons.

There's a knack to removing a fish from a hook, but it's still trickier taking a fishhook out of human flesh. The Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company warns that the barb must not be drawn out directly. Push the point forward until it protrudes, cut off barb, then withdraw the remainder. Cleanse the wound thoroughly, apply Iodine 2% Zephiran or equal and a dry sterile gauze dressing. Consult a physician; further treatment may be needed. You'd be wise to carry a small wire cutter in your tackle kit for such an emergency.

Cow On The Tracks

At 8:00 p.m. on Sunday, July 15, Officers Kelley and Ellsworth were called to Nichols by citizens who stated that a cow was strolling down the railroad tracks in that vicinity.

The officers apprehended the animal which was placed in a shed belonging to Mr. Manson, pending identification.

Accident On Main St.

At 10:00 a.m. on Monday, July 16, an accident involving a car and a large truck, occurred on Main St., in front of Louie's. The vehicles, traveling in opposite directions, collided in the center of the street, causing Main St. to take on the appearance of a dirt road. (The truck was loaded with loam.)

The operator of the truck, Serifino Del Rossi of West Water St., Wakefield, had been following a boy on a bicycle for some distance. Due to the shaky manner in which the cyclist was maneuvering, Mr. Del Rossi had not ventured to pass, fearing that he would strike the child.

When it seemed apparent that the boy would fall into the path of his truck, Mr. Del Rossi swung his vehicle across Main St., hoping to avoid the accident. Just as he made his move, a car driven by Ora McClaren of Tewksbury, approached from the opposite direction and struck the right front of the truck.

The right front of both vehicles was damaged and the car was towed to Gil-its own power. Officer Shepherd investigated the accident. The truck left under dent. The boy on the bicycle was not identified.

Water Skiing Disturbs Swimmers

On Sunday, July 15, at 3:20 p.m. Officers Markey and Dolan were called to Silver Lake by citizens who complained that a motor boat, pulling water skiers across the water was disturbing the swimmers at the town beach. The offenders complied with the orders of the officers.

Vandals On Oak St.

At 10:20 a.m. on July 13, Sgt. Imbimbo received a call from Manuel Tankle of Dorchester. Mr. Tankle complained that property belonging to him on Oak St. had been damaged. Windows and interior damage was done. Police are investigating.

Soap Box Champion At West Peabody

The Massachusetts Soap Box champion for 1956, Peter Theriault of Malden, will be a special guest this Saturday night at the stock car races at West Peabody Speedway. The 13-year-old youth recently defeated more than 200 derby contestants at Taylor Memorial Track, Stoneham to capture the state Soap Box crown.

Peter will fly to Akron, Ohio's Derby Downs to compete in the All-American Soap Box finals on August 12. At Akron, 156 regional champions from all parts of the United States and some foreign countries will race their home-built coasters for a share of $15,000 in college scholarships and other valuable prizes awarded by Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors.

Track announcer Spike Brown will introduce the Soap Box titleholder to stock car fans. Peter will assist starters Jim Costello and Wally Faulkner in getting the main race of the evening under way.

The feature event of this Saturday night's program will be the mid-season championship race pitting the leading stock car speedsters of the area against each other in a grueling 50-lap contest. The Speedway is located on route 120 toward Middleton with opening races scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

BILLERICA GIRL WRITES SONG WHICH COULD BECOME A HIT

Miss Camery Alabiso of Baldwin Road, formerly of Somerville, may become a Billerica Star in the composing field. She is 23 years old and a graduate of Somerville High School in 1951. She has been writing songs for five years. She is employed by the John Hancock Insurance Co.

Some of the songs she composed are: "My heart Went Bing Bong", "How Could I Know", "Don't Smile At Me", and "Brown Eyes", which was played in Pennsylvania. Miss Alabiso has written to RCA, but they told her they would have to see the reaction to the song by the people who listen to the radio. The song which could very likely become a hit is called "It's Starting All Over Again". It is played and sung by Don Ross of New York. It may be heard over station WLLH by calling GL 8-3715 and requesting it. It's up to you, the CRITICS, to help Miss Alabiso, by requesting this song many times. Tell your friends and relatives all over about it, and get them to help push this song. The song is popular music and waltz style. Following are the words:

"It's Starting All Over Again"
When I was young I loved a boy, and he loved me too, but one day his love grew cold and he found someone new.

Chorus: It's starting all over again. I'm falling in love with you. It's starting all over again, you said our romance was through. You went away and left me, with a broken heart. It isn't fair to come back and tear it apart. I just can't forget you sweetheart, and I guess you always knew. It's starting all over again. I'm falling in love with you. 2nd verse:

I thought his love I could forget, till one day we met. Now I know as years pass by, he's the one I love best.

Repeat Chorus.

If there are any Publishers interested in this song, you may contact Miss Alabiso at Baldwin Road, East Billerica, or by telephone at MOntrorse 3-8252.

SHADOWBROOK GROUND BREAKING JULY 31ST.

Most Rev. Richard J. Cushing, Archbishop of Boston, will deliver the principal address at the ground breaking ceremonies of the new Jesuit Shadowbrook Novitiate at Lenox, July 31st.

Very Rev. William E. Fitzgerald, S.J., New England Provincial of the Society of Jesus, also announced that the ground breaking will be performed by Most Rev. Christopher J. Weldon, Bishop of the Springfield Diocese.

Thousands are expected to attend the ceremonies which will be held at Tanglewood and at the site for the new building, located near the novitiate that was gutted by fire March 10th.

Archbishop Cushing formally opened the $3 - million campaign for the new Novitiate less than a year ago at Boston College.

Gathered then were 250 advance gifts workers. Since that time the organization of Jesuits and campaign committee members has swelled to 3000 in 19 New England areas.

As of July 12, $2,026,000 has been contributed.

The Jesuits, grateful for this "remarkable progress," said the new Novitiate will provide living quarters for 30 Jesuit priests and professed brothers and 175 Novices, Juniors and Novice Brothers.

At Shadowbrook, the primary training center for Jesuits serving New England, candidates for the priesthood spend four years in study and prayer, which prepares them for 11 additional years of study and teaching assignments before they are ordained.

Bathers may well be terrified at the sight of Portuguese Men-Of-War, jelly fish or sea urchins. The Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company says it is important for swimmers to know the treatment of skin irritations caused by contact with these jelly fish. Cleanse the affected part of the body gently with clean, wet sand containing enough water to make it soupy. Remove the slime and parts of tentacles; then bathe the part with half strength household ammonia. Finally cover with a paste of bicarbonate of soda and water, or a good burn ointment.

SAFETY TIP: The greatest single cause of accidents is YOU, according to the Triple-A. Near-perfect automobiles and good roads can't compensate for the human element when drivers continue to do foolish things. Learn how to drive properly—then apply what you know, to your everyday driving.
